Mexican Police Arrest Pair

2 Admit Bombings of Microwave Towers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Investigators say an ex-builder and a young mining engineer have admitted the $50,000-bombing of three Utah-Nevada communications facilities three weeks ago—to publicize an anti-big business "American Republican Army."

Police of Ensenada, Mexico, a port city 75 miles south of here, arrested bearded Bernard Jerome Brous, 51, and handsome Dale Chris Jensen, 23, U.S. citizens, Saturday night aboard Brous' yacht laden with arms—machine guns, rifles and ammunition.

Sunday night Mexican authorities brought the two men to the border at Tijuana and turned them over to the FBI. Agents took them before a San Diego U.S. commissioner, who ordered them held under $100,000 bail each and set arraignment for Tuesday.

Taken into custody for questioning with them and brought here were Brous' wife, Minnie, 40, a former dancer and model, and Robert Gerald Bortoli, 28, a Reno, Nev., gambling house dealer.

Both said they knew nothing of the bombings. Mrs. Brous told newsmen she thought the explosives on the yacht were to be used in hunting sunken treasure off Peru. Bortoli said he was a guest for skin-diving.

Mexican authorities said Brous and Jensen admitted blowing up the two microwave towers and a relay station early on Sunday May 28. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. estimated the damage at about $850,000.

Brous told a U. S. newsmen he masterminded the sabotage. Jensen told Mexican police he blew up the three installations and was paid by Brous to do it. He said Brous was in Ensenada at the time.

A copyright story in the San Diego Union quoted the two as saying the sabotage was in behalf of the "American Republican Army."

A Mexican official said Brous told him the army was intended to fight what Brous termed official corruption in the American system, including the FBI and big business.

The Union's interview was written by Robert L. Curry, editor and publisher of the Redondo Beach, Calif., South Bay Daily Breeze, who was vacationing in Ensenada.

Curry said Brous represented himself as head of the American Republican Army and said it will gain political power "by political, not violent means."

"We planned blowing up the communication equipment as a spectacular effort to bring notice to the organization," Brous said.

Brous told Curry that "hate for the privately owned utility companies" was one reason for the bombings. Another was to produce a "scare" to bring nationwide recognition of his group.

Brous described it as "like the John Birch Society but more active."

Brous said he's non-Communist but supports nationalization of public utilities. He claimed his

Legislature Eyes Recess at End of June

$2 Billion State Operating Measure Still In Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of the 104th Ohio General Assembly are resigned to the fact they will have to work a month overtime.

Legislators agree that the working sessions will wind up the last week of June, a month beyond the original target date set for adjournment.

Budget Bill Faces Senate

The big project still facing the Senate is the $2 billion state operating budget bill, which is in committee. And both the House and Senate have numerous other bills to be acted upon.

According to Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, it appears physically impossible to bring the big money bill to a Senate floor vote next week because of the many cuts being made by the finance committee.

Committee members estimate the cuts would total about $45 million, plus the $2 million slice made by the House. But they assert more money still is provided for the states operations for the next two years starting July 1 than was appropriated by the 1959 Democratic-controlled legislature.

Most of the money cut from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's budget will go to public schools, said Rep. Robert H. Longworth, R-Carroll, chairman of the House Education Committee. House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, said the school foundation bill probably will reach a vote on the House floor this week.

Threatens Drastic Action

Gov. DiSalle, insisting the cuts will reduce state service below present levels for the aged, crippled children, state hospitals and universities, has threatened drastic action on the budget without explaining his plan.

House votes are expected this week on a workmen's compensation bill to revise claims procedures without altering benefits, action on a measure to pay sundry claims against the state and a proposal to tap a $14 million surplus in the capital improvements bond fund for a super-science research center at Ohio State University, Cloud said.

While the House has cut its committee hearings to a minimum, schedules for Senate hearings continued long. House leaders explained that few bills which have failed to clear one house so far stand much chance of enactment at this late date.

The backlog of House - passed bills pending in the Senate now exceeds that of Senate - approved measures pending in the House.

Jaycee 'Key Men' Awards Presented

Presentation of three key men awards highlighted the Junior Chamber of Commerce installation dinner Saturday evening at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

The recipients of the awards were Gus Paparodis for his profit-making project, Robert Conroy, non-profit committee chairman for his "youth in government" project; and Ford Joseph Jr., first vice president, for best officer. The "key man" awards are for outstanding contributions to the Jaycees.

sentations to Mr. Joseph; William Lewis, a past president, Mr. Paparodis and Mr. Conroy. Retiring president Edward Butcher was given a lapel pin.

Horace Schwartz, a past president, installed the 1961-62 officers as follows: President, Donald DeJane; first vice president, Paparodis; second vice president, C. F. Tomlinson; secretary, Conroy; treasurer, Wayne D. A. Ling; directors, Joseph, Howard Smith, Willard Stamp, Richard Calvin, Thomas Coe; state director, Edward Butcher.

Butcher, retiring president, presented the 33 project awards to the various chairmen. He also introduced the guests, Dave Gregg of Youngstown, District vice president and his wife; Olin K. Muntz, second vice president of the Lions Club, and his wife; Matt Melitschka, life member and JC international senator, and his wife; and Edward Maruka, past president, and JC international senator. Jerome Parker, president of the Fremont Jaycees, formerly of Salem, gave the invocation.

There were 70 members and guests present. Dancing was enjoyed after the meeting, with Steve Navoyosky's orchestra providing the music.

Unacceptable Proposal From Reds Expected

Talks Broken Off Year Ago When Soviets Walked Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. and Soviet representatives meet here today, seeking a way to resume general disarmament talks.

The talks were broken off a year ago when the Communist representatives walked out. They charged the West with bad faith.

Whether the Soviets stick to procedural matters this time or show intentions of talking about all the problems of disarmament may offer a clue as to whether the talks will get off the ground.

Expects Red Opposition
The U.S. representative, John J. McCloy, is reported to expect that his Soviet counterpart, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, will not be satisfied with limiting the Washington talks to questions of procedures.

In fact, Zorin was hinting all last week that he will bring up Soviet Premier Khrushchev's request to merge the stalemated Geneva talks on seeking a ban on nuclear weapons testing into the broader conference of disarmament.

The United States, in a diplomatic note handed to the Kremlin last Saturday, said the Khrushchev proposal was unacceptable. The United States accused Moscow of trying "to choke off" the Geneva negotiations by proposing that they be merged into general disarmament talks.

Agree on New Effort
Last March, U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko agreed that a new effort should be made to resume the disarmament talks and that a multinational conference should meet around July 31.

McCloy, President Kennedy's special representative on disarmament, and Zorin were given the task of deciding when and where such a conference should be held and who should attend it.

There is no question about the 10 nations—five on each side—to represent East and West. They would be the same as last year—the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy, on one side and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania on the other.

The Soviets now want to bring

Capsule Picked From Pacific

Aerial Catch Fails, Skindivers Don't

HAWAII (AP)—Success of parachuting skindivers in recovering a Discoverer capsule ejected from space may mean the U.S. Air Force is ready to put a chimpanzee into global orbit.

The Air Force said it was thoroughly pleased with the recovery by a team of skindivers who leaped 1,000 feet into the Pacific near Hawaii Sunday to retrieve an instrument-packed capsule. The data-gathering capsule was ejected from orbiting Discoverer XXV after a space ride of 50 hours and 3 minutes.

The skindivers and their prize were to be picked up by a U.S. Navy destroyer today and delivered to Pearl Harbor. The capsule will then be flown to Sunnyvale, Calif., for analysis of information it gathered while circling the earth.

The Discoverer package fell north of the planned impact spot and waiting Air Force planes were unable to make an aerial catch. But that didn't dampen the Air Force's jubilation.

"Recovery by the skin divers really worked," said a spokesman. "We know now we can get anything that comes back from space."

Three skindivers, training for months for a chance at recovery,

Aged Couple Dies In Fire In Carrollton

CARROLLTON — An elderly couple was killed early Sunday when a fire swept through their home in Carrollton.

The victims, Samuel Fisher, 71, and his wife, Bertha, 70, died of suffocation, Coroner Dr. T. J. Atchison ruled.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor across the street, Mrs. Paul Temple, who was awakened at 2:15 p.m. when she heard glass breaking and saw the house a mass of flames.

Firemen arrived at the scene at 2:30 a.m. but the fire was out of control. They fought the blaze until 6 a.m.

The cause of the fire was not determined. However, it is assumed that a cigarette on the living room floor apparently smoldered before burning the contents to a kindling temperature. An explosion was caused by the intense heat. Both bodies were found in an upstairs bedroom on the floor.

No other homes were in danger of being involved in the fire.

Double funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Sweeney Funeral Home in Carrollton. Burial will be in Westview Cemetery. There will be no calling hours.

Former GOP Senator, Congressman

Bender Succumbs To Heart Attack

CLEVELAND (AP) — George H. Bender, former Republican U.S. senator and congressman for 16 years and one of Ohio's most colorful politicians, is dead from a heart attack at 64.

Death came unexpectedly at his suburban Chagrin Falls home Sunday to the man who ruled the

Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) GOP organization as its chairman from 1938 until 1954, when he won the seat to fill out two years of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's unexpired term.

Insurance was his business, but politics was Bender's love and career. For more than a generation he fought—and won—in the rough and tumble of big city politics. He injected a light touch on the political scene and he was outspoken. But few felt he was a clown.

When he was 24 Bender claimed his first political victory: election to the state Senate. He stayed on the job for a decade.

Eight years later, in 1938, Bender moved up to Washington as a congressman. He was defeated only once in eight congressional campaigns, the 1948 upset by Stephen M. Young, now Ohio's junior senator. But Bender turned the tables on Young two years later.

After winning Taft's seat, Bender lost in a reelection bid two years later to the popular Democratic governor, Frank J. Lausche, a fellow Clevelandian who still holds the Senate seat.

Although his political fortunes had been at low ebb since 1938, Bender recently indicated he was going to run for his old Senate post against Lausche in 1962.

Bender, who loved good eating and thus had a hard time keeping his weight under 200 on a 6-foot frame, was an extrovert.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer commented editorially: "Ohio politics will not be the same without Bender. He was, for many years, 'the life of the party.' His unrestrained exuberance and enthusiasm will long be remembered."

Fellow congressmen saw the comic side when Bender greeted House Republicans of the 80th Congress in January, 1947, by handing out 300 brooms. Each was

At Least 23 Die In French Train Wreck

VITRY-LE-FRANCOIS, France (AP)—French Railways officials said today that 23 bodies had been taken from the wreckage of the crack Strasbourg-Paris express but that an undetermined number still remained in a car submerged in swamp water.

Rescue workers were hampered in reaching the car because a second one rested atop it. Ten cars left the rails late Sunday as the electric train sped along at 80 miles an hour.

It was one of France's worst railway wrecks in years.

The French Railways in Paris said 23 bodies had been found and 100 to 115 passengers injured. Authorities at a nearby U.S. military base who were helping with rescue work earlier had reported 32 dead. This morning the U.S. officials said the figure was 23 and gave no immediate explanation for the discrepancy.

The U.S. base said the number of injured was 153, considerably more than the figure given by the French Railways.

Rupert Barn, Hay Crop Lost In Fire

A hay dryer is believed to have been the cause of a $12,000 fire that destroyed a barn containing 60 tons of hay owned by Raymond Rupert on the Columbiana - New Waterford Rd., 2½ miles east of Columbiana, Saturday afternoon.

Columbiana Fire Chief Marcus Hum said that the hay dryer sets outside of the barn and that only an hour before the blaze four loads of hay were brought into the barn.

Mrs. Rupert heard an explosion at approximately 3 p.m. and notified the fire department. Columbiana and New Waterford fire departments fought the blaze.

The loss, covered by insurance, was under control by 6 p.m., Hum said.

The Columbiana chief disclosed that the same barn was burned in 1952 and the cause was determined because spontaneous combustion ignited the hay.

Ship Strike Factions Far Apart on Terms

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators in the maritime strike which has paralyzed segments of the nation's merchant fleet were further apart today following heated charges of attempted bribery and divisive tactics.

There were predictions on both sides that the strike, which began last Thursday midnight, would be a long one.

More than 100 ships have been immobilized in the nation's ports. The attempted bribery charge was made Sunday by Jesse M. Calhoun, chairman of the National Committee for Maritime Bargaining, a group representing several unions.

Calhoun charged that the American Merchant Marine Institute had attempted to "bribe us by offering a substantial economic package if we will drop the runaway-flag issue from our demands." He said he had called upon a congressional committee to investigate.

The accusation was denied by Ralph E. Casey, president of the Merchant Marine Institute. He accused Calhoun of "lying in his teeth," and said he also would welcome a congressional investigation.

The "runaway-flag" issue is a main obstacle to a settlement. It involves American-owned ships which sail under foreign flags.

The unions want the right to organize the crews on these ships. They contend that American sea-

Laotian Princes Fail To Agree

Coalition Delayed By Power Hassle

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—The three rival princes of Laos began negotiations for a coalition government today and promptly disagreed.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the self-styled neutralist who is the Communists' candidate to head a "national union" regime, announced that Prince Boun Oum, the conservative premier of the Western-backed royal government in Vientiane, plans to retire from politics.

A spokesman for Boun Oum denied the retirement report, saying, "Prince Souvanna Phouma failed to understand the prince's intentions." He added that "until now there has been no question" of Boun Oum's willingness to abandon power.

Concerning Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the deputy premier and real power of the Vientiane government, Souvanna said, "I will not admit the military into the government." He hinted that if Gen. Phoumi remained in politics, he would have to leave the army.

Souvanna's statement indicated that if he heads the coalition government as expected, representatives of the conservatives, pro-Western factions in Laos will take a back seat to Souvanna and his

2 District Men Among 4 Plane Crash Victims

Two district men were among four killed in the crash of a single engine plane at Lewistown, Pa., Saturday.

They were: Samuel S. Tibrea, 24, of RD 1, Paris, a former Columbiana County resident and an auctioneer, and employee of Kolcast Industries in Minerva.

Russell Cox, 53, of 525 E. Beech St., Alliance, an engineer at Kolcast Industries.

Melvin K. Sweetapple, 34, of Mentor, the pilot.

Byron Gore, 34, of Oklahoma City and York, Pa.

The plane, which had taken off from the Alliance airport Saturday morning, crashed and burned in a landing attempt at the Lewistown field, Pennsylvania state police said.

Three of the victims were trapped in the flaming wreckage. Mr. Gore was thrown clear. The four were on a trip to East Waterford, Pa., 10 miles from Lewistown.

William Merryman, who was fishing from the Juniata River bank near the crash site, related that he saw the plane come in to land, then veer off to try again.

On the second attempt, the pilot reportedly gunned the engine to gain altitude, but the plane flipped over on its back and hit the ground, bursting into flames.

Sweetapple, a construction firm operator, had taken off from Concord Airport near Painesville, according to his wife. She said her husband, renting a plane from Ray Bedisch of Painesville, had told her he was picking up one man in the Cleveland area and two more at Alliance.

Gore was going to Lewistown to check the possibility of securing gas or oil leases in the area, and he and Cox had investments in an oil well at Bradford, Pa., according to papers found at the crash scene by Coroner Ralph C. Morgan of Mifflin County, Pa.

Rev. Snowball To Leave City For Cleveland

Official announcement is expected to be made at the Methodist church conference at Lakeside next Saturday of the transfer of Rev. William Snowball of Salem to the Windermere Church in East Cleveland and the transfer of Rev. W. S. Longworth of the Columbiana Methodist Church to the Salem pastorate.

Rev. Snowball announced to his congregation Sunday that he would be leaving. He was interviewed last week and given a call by the Windermere pulpit committee.

The change would be effective July 1, it is understood.

The Lakeside annual conference opened today.

Rev. Snowball came to Salem in 1956 from the Akron Woodland Methodist Church, succeeding Rev. C. Clare Davis, then pastor. It was a pulp exchange. Rev. Snowball, pastor at one time of the nearby Leontonia church, is a native of Cannonsburg, Pa., and is a graduate of Mt. Union College, Ohio State and Yale Divinity School.

Ikeda Flying to Washington

Japanese Prime Minister,
JFK To Air Asian Problems

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda left for Washington today for a "frank exchange of opinions" with President Kennedy on grave problems in the Far East.

Ikeda's departure came a year to the day after cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. The prime minister's leavetaking was in sharp contrast to the violence that erupted last year in protest against the revision of the Japan-U.S. security treaty.

Several thousand supporters cheered Ikeda at the airport. Leftwingers who demonstrated Saturday against the trip did not turn out today, but 2,000 police guarded the prime minister's route from his residence.

Ikeda is scheduled to confer with Kennedy Tuesday through Thursday. He will return home via Canada for talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka, who accompanied Ikeda, said the trip would be a great success "if we can convince the United States that it is not making a mistake if it trusts Japan, which has such a good outlook on the Asian situation."

"I do not intend to point out that the United States has spent huge sums of money but has not had good results," Kosaka said. "I intend to suggest that certain other ways might be better."

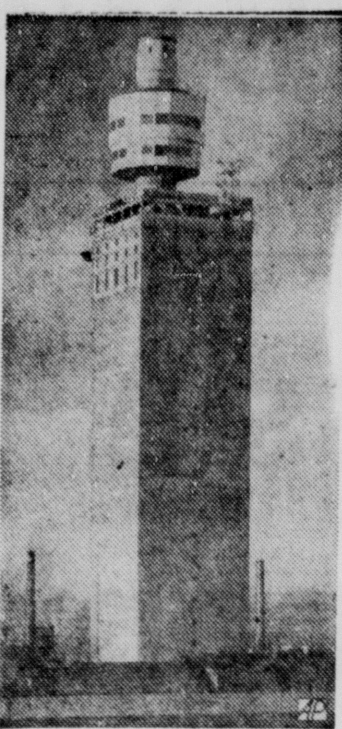

Such prickly issues as relations with Communist China, Japanese rights in Okinawa, aid for underdeveloped Southeast Asian nations, the security treaty and Communist threats to Laos and South Viet Nam are almost certain to be discussed in Washington.

Japan recognizes Nationalist China, but Ikeda advocates more trade ties with Red China without giving formal recognition.

Ikeda faces growing pressure at home for stepped up economic and cultural dealings with Communist China. Japan's economic and military dependence on the United States compels it to keep generally in line with Washington on policy towards Peiping.

Some think the prime minister also will ask Kennedy to hand over to Japan administrative control of Okinawa, the chief U.S. military base in the Far East. The U.S. government takes a dim view of that idea.

Opening The Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Since the invention of the typewriter in 1873, the number of women stenographers in America has risen from 7 to more than 2½ million.

The peace-loving Irish are getting more peaceful every year. The crime rate, which climbed steeply in this country in 1960, fell by 14 per cent in Ireland.

Many European farmers plant a "Birth Tree" when a new child is born, symbolically tying the growth of the two together. In Switzerland a pear tree is planted for a girl, an apple tree for a boy.

In praising a Swiss miss, one presumably says, "she was the pear of her father's eye."

The high cost of living: A survey showed that sooner or later one out of five middle-class families suffers a serious illness or accident costing $2,000 or more.

Pampering the breed: At La Rinconada Racetrack in Venezuela, reported the fanciest in South America, even the horses have a swimming pool.

Did you know less than half as many people drown in swimming pools as drown in bathtubs?

Our quotable notables: "Apathy can only be overcome by enthusiasm," said historian Arnold Toynbee, "and enthusiasm can only be aroused by two things: First, an ideal which takes the imagination by storm, and second, a definite intelligible plan for carrying that ideal into practice."

Ever worry about horses getting hurt in all those TV and movie westerns? Humane societies report these animal actors live longer and suffer 50 per cent fewer injuries than horses on farms or ranches.

Hot weather warning: A 5 per cent loss of body salt causes weariness, a 30 per cent loss leads to dizziness, and a 50 per cent loss—prostration.

Still good advice: The motto on the first coin issued by the U.S. government—the 1787 penny—was: "Mind your business."

It takes a strong man to be either a banker or a bank robber on the Island of Yap. Stone money used as currency there weighs about 175 pounds. One chunk will buy a wife—or 10,000 coconuts!

Caps were first introduced into the United States during the Civil War, and were worn by Johnny Reb as well as Yankee. Both sides copied them from the French military "kepi."

Worth repeating: "Woman begins by resisting a man's advances and ends by blocking his retreat."—Oscar Wilde.

If you want to get your teeth fixed at as low a cost as possible, you'll probably do better to go either to a young or old dentist. Most dentists charge their highest fees when they are between 35 and 45 years old.

The vainer sex: Men curled their hair long before women. Stone-age dandies crimped their locks by wrapping them around small bones and rubbing them with bear grease.

Odd custom in the African Sudan: After bearing five children, a wife can return to her parents—leaving daddy to raise the kids.

It was Ed Howe who observed, "A good scare is worth more to a man than good advice."

Stevenson Meets Ecuador President, Critic of U.S.

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson today faced one of the most difficult parts of his South American mission as he began talks with President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra, an outspoken critic of the United States, and other Ecuadorian officials.

Along with the expected request for U.S. financial aid, Velasco Ibarra was certain to raise the burning local issue of Ecuador's border dispute with Peru.

A 1942 treaty awarded the major portion of the disputed Amazon headwaters area to Peru and designated the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile as guarantors. Velasco Ibarra after taking office said the treaty was signed under duress, but four guarantors have refused to back him.

Velasco Ibarra also had expressed strong sympathy for Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba and has taken a determined stand against intervention of any kind in the affairs of other countries. A few hours before Stevenson arrived, Vice President Carlos Julio Arosmena and six legislators left to visit the Soviet Union. Despite the political differences, Stevenson on his arrival from Peru Sunday got the most enthusiastic reception of his tour. When his plane stopped at Guayaquil, more than 1,000 cheered and applauded him and chanted "down with communism." Another large crowd greeted him at Quito.

But How Did It All End?

One year ago, the Republic of Congo had not emerged from Africa. It was still an area in that vast continent—a part of colonial Belgium.

Beginning June 30, when the republic leaped into the headlines, the Congolese and their violence monopolized news headlines. Americans, especially, seemed to believe the outcome of the battle for men's minds might be turning on the pulling and hauling, the wheeling and dealing, the marching and counter-marching of the undisciplined masses of these people in Africa who were trying to start a government without anything they needed—education, equipment, tradition, respect for authority and without authority, itself.

Day after day, the news from the Congo was awaited anxiously. The Communists were doing thus and so. The United Nations was reacting thus and so. The Belgians said this and they said that. A parade of Congolese leaders, obviously self-conscious in their roles of leadership, all of them painfully unprepared for the heavy responsibility they were bearing, passed through the news.

THE SECRETARY GENERAL of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld, was tagged for extinction by the Soviet Union because he ruled the Congo off limits for Communist exploitation, the same thing that befell his predecessor Trygve Lie when he ruled Korea off limits for Red expansion.

The United Nations, itself, sagged and buckled under the burden of responsibility for a new nation with no know-how and no know-who. It was a tossup who would come out of the chaos as the best bet to lead the Congo—Lumumba, Kasavubu, Mobutu, Tshombe.

The "Congo crisis," as it came to be called universally, was going to mark a turning point in the history of mankind. It almost certainly was going to wreck the United Nations. In all probability it was going to prove that the United States had lost its international grip.

It was everything that everybody said it was, which was everything that came to everybody's mind in a period of stress and excitement. But, as is the way with crises, the Congo crisis cooled down.

It suddenly became apparent to the excitable elements of modern civilization that the new turning point in the history of mankind, the thing that almost certainly would break the United Nations and prove the United States had lost its grip was Cuba. Or was it Laos? Or was it South Vietnam? Or Berlin?

Wherever it is, the crisis will be hair-raising.

IN THE MEANTIME it's comforting to know that Secretary General Hammarskjöld, a patient man who sometimes must have to count to a million before answering, to keep from showing annoyance, feels that the political crisis in the Congo has quieted down.

He has told President Kasavubu that $10 million to help should be forthcoming from the United Nations if Congolese affairs are made shipshape—not the way they are in some of the well-established countries but the way political scientists said they should be. And President Kasavubu has said the Republic of Congo will do everything it can to make them that way. He seems to be in control.

All the news now is about other places—Laos, South Vietnam and, soon, Berlin. There is never any dearth of places where mankind, the United Nations and the United States go on trial. There is only a dearth of follow-through on the outcome of the crises that have become part of the routine of life in our time.

The Price Must Be Right

Any doubt that Fidel Castro's prisoners-for-tractors offer put a price on human life and freedom has been dispelled by his agreement to a measure of compromise: He will accept small, farming tractors rather than heavy, construction tractors.

The only stipulation is that the value of the equipment must total in the neighborhood of $28 million, plus transportation.

The injection of this price into the negotiations with United States spokesmen should increase the reported revulsion of Latin Americans who found the original Castro offer pretty hard to stomach.

In that sense, the officially unofficial U.S. representatives may be doing a service by pursuing their dealings with the bearded dictator in the face of considerable criticism. Further talks with Castro may help to highlight the ruthlessness of his proffered deal even more.

But the underlying concern here is whether these details are reaching the people in Latin America who need to be reached. Most of the people who are able to read, listen, interpret and judge intelligently already oppose Castro because they have been able to understand for a long time what he is really up to.

There are many of them and they are important people. But their influence in turning Latin America openly against Castro is limited severely because they are so far outnumbered by people who cannot read, listen, interpret and judge intelligently.

And these people idolize Castro simply because they cannot do all those things. Their station in life has been poverty and illiteracy. Their lives have been cheap, so isn't it possible that they consider Castro's offer of 1,200 lives for $28 million more than generous?

That question is valid only if the figures have been mentioned to the villagers in backlands and jungles who comprise Castro's strength in Latin America. Chances are figures have never been mentioned to them. It is hard for us even to imagine how the whole matter may have been presented to the peasants of Latin America by Castro's agents.

Anthony Eden Misses the Point

Sir Anthony Eden had been out of the news since his resignation as British prime minister in 1957, until he made a speech at a political rally recently. His subject brought him back to attention in a hurry.

From four to six governments of the Free World, he proposed, should form a political general staff to offset the Communist Conspiracy. Translated into plain language, there should be a Free World Conspiracy.

The idea is attractive until it is realized that the Free World cannot form a conspiracy; it is a contradiction in terms to the Communists can form a workable conspiracy. They have failed as between the use the two ideas. It is doubtful if even Soviet Union and the Chinese Peoples Republic.

In the Free World there couldn't even be an attempt, because there is no central authority. Governments can and will share common aspirations. They can reach common agreements. They can move in parallel directions. But only in war, and then only tenuously, can they lend themselves to common policies and, become members of the Free World is independence of thought and action, with full responsibility for the consequences. Sir Anthony, himself, had this brought home to him when he reaped the whirlwind of his Suez decision, which he shared with an ill-fated government in France. He could not be stopped, but neither could the consequences of his decision to blunder ahead.

There will be no conspiracy in behalf of freedom. There will be loose agreements imperfectly honored, like the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. There will be lip service to international organizations like the United Nations. But there cannot be anything like the Communist Conspiracy, which purports to exercise international discipline, based on decrees made by proletarian dictatorships.

That is what the Free World is fighting, not initiating.

By H. I. Phillips

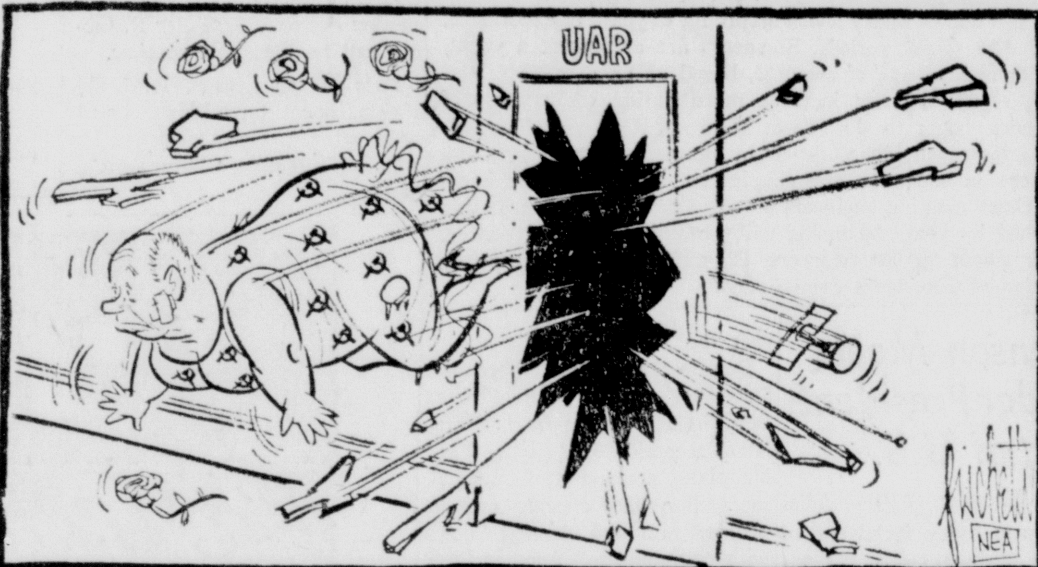

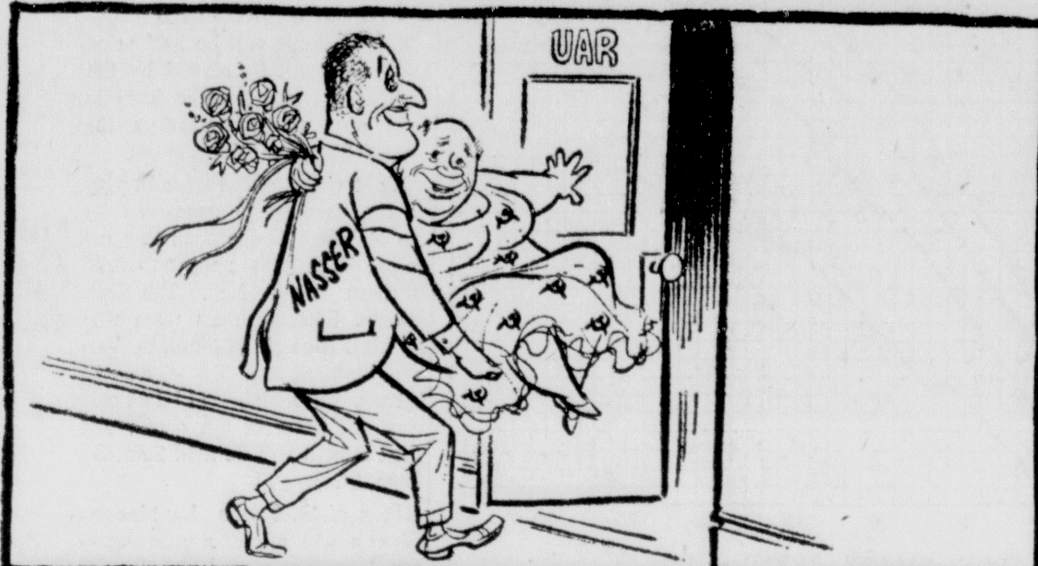

We may be there (also the lot)... BUT IT'S A BET THE HOUSE WILL NOT.

HOW TO MAKE a grasshopper out of a man has been solved by Newport News test of rocket-gadgets attached to back of human being. Wearing a rocket belt somewhat resembling a large fire extinguisher with outboard motor, a man was shown jumping over trucks and other obstacles. This seems at last to provide answers to these problems:

1. How to get a husband out of argument with wife with minimum difficulty.
2. Enable man at modern cocktail party to leave it when surrounded, with all exits blocked.
3. Enable parents to recover junior's kite from tree.

Purpose of manufacturer is to give mankind another Buck Rogers war weapon. It is expected it can be developed to carry soldiers over rivers, minefields, barbed wire, etc. "On the double!" may be replaced by sergeant's "Alley Oop" or "Up-si-daisy!" War is war, but who ever dreamed a GI would cease to worry about his feet and just think about his nozzles and valves?

Over the Threshold

The Big Test Ahead

By JOSEPH R. SLEVIN

President Kennedy's Committee on Labor-Management Policy soon will get a chance to show whether it is worth the paper and ink it took to set it up.

There have been three labor-management committees since the end of World War II and the first two didn't get off the ground. President Truman set up the first one in 1945 and President Eisenhower established the second just last year.

The Kennedy group has 21 high-powered members and, if the labor-management idea ever is going to work, this is the time when it should. The stakes are high.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said the other day that the prime responsibility of the presidential committee is to find ways of preventing another round of wage-price inflation and Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, has taken the same tack.

THE COMMITTEE has been meeting once a month at the White House and the evidence thus far is that the members haven't done much besides getting to know each other better while discussing basic issues in comfortable generalities.

The July session is supposed to be different because the group will get down to the essentials of wage-price policy for the first time — and it will be the committee's last chance to take a meaningful stand before the important automobile wage negotiations begin in August.

There's a general disposition within the administration to suspect that the August talks will decide whether the United States is to have relatively stable prices or inflation during this business upturn.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, the committee chairman, has said that the presidential group will not intervene in individual disputes but the import of any committee conclusions will hardly escape two of the key participants in the August negotiations. Both Walter Reuther, United Automobile Workers president and Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Automobile Co., are members of the White House panel.

Presidential assistant, Walt Whitman Rostow, tidily summed up the central wage negotiation issue in a talk to a business group last week. We will see "whether we choose to negotiate our way into inflation," he declared.

Mr. Dillon and Mr. Heller have endorsed a rule-of-thumb standard for wage negotiations. They have said that wages should not go up faster than worker productivity.

It can't be said that it's an administration position since Mr. Goldberg declined to take a stand for or against the Dillon-Heller rule when he was asked about it at a press conference after the last meeting of the labor-management committee.

ACTUALLY, the Dillon-Heller standard only puts a ceiling on wage boosts. It says that wage increases should not exceed productivity advances but it does not say that all of the benefit of greater productivity should go to a company's workers.

Mr. Reuther probably would be delighted to sign a contract that gives the entire automobile industry productivity rise to labor but two other groups would not be happy.

Stockholders figure that they should share in the benefit of an improvement in efficiency.

And, then, there are the consumers. The automobile companies would do well to give consumers some of the benefit of higher productivity by trimming car prices.

Lower prices would lead to more sales, more production and, just incidentally, to more jobs for Mr. Reuther's automobile workers.

Propaganda Unlimited

Khrushchev Taking Advantage Of Publicity

All around the world the Communist propaganda war continues to fill the press and the air waves with words that twist and distort the peaceful purposes of the United States Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has just taken advantage of the publicity build-up which President Kennedy gave him by going to a conference with him alone at Vienna.

A nationwide television speech inside Russia — something rare — is used by the Soviet ruler to stir up animosity against the United States. It was broadcast by radio at the same time throughout the world.

Coincidentally, Fidel Castro, coached by Moscow, has heaped insult after insult on the United States by increasing his demand for "indemnity" for the "invasion" of Cuba.

Hence, the ransom price for releasing the prisoners has gone up from around $2.5 million, which was supposed to be the value of the tractors Castro wanted, to approximately $28 million.

America's prestige will take another nosedive if the United States government encourages any more efforts to appease Castro.

Coincidentally, also, there are anti-American demonstrations in Venezuela and Chile which are inspired by Moscow and conducted by Communists.

In some instances these manifestations of hostility are directed against officers of the United States embassies and, in some, against Adlai Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations who is making a goodwill trip to Latin America.

Coincidentally, moreover, the conferences at Geneva on a nuclear test ban and on Laos drag on without tangible result.

The Communists have issued an ultimatum — they demand that the nuclear testing issue be merged with the disarmament question, which means many more months of futile negotiation.

They insist also that the West surrender on Laos and let the government there be turned over to a so-called "neutral" government — which means one dominated by the Communists.

But the outstanding propaganda stunt is the Khrushchev speech. It was billed as a "report to the nation" paralleling that of President Kennedy.

There were noticeable differences in the Soviet viewpoint as presented to the American people by Mr. Kennedy and that which the Soviet premier gave on Thursday to the people throughout Europe.

IT IS APPARENT that Mr. Kennedy's euphemistic statement that "no major decision was either planned or taken" and that there was no "ultimatum" presented on Berlin must be taken now with a grain of salt. For the Soviet premier in his speech sets forth a deadline — the end of the current year.

At that time, if no surrender has been made on West Berlin by the West, a peace treaty between Moscow and the East German Republic will be signed.

Such a step means a challenge to possible war. For the West has said it will resist any attempt by the East German authorities to interfere with the access routes that must be used by the West in order to get in and out of Berlin. The situation is well summed up in a dispatch from Reuters News Service from Moscow, as follows:

"Western observers in Moscow said it seemed evident that all Kennedy's arguments in Vienna for the western viewpoint had made little difference to Khrushchev's thinking."

Indeed, the Soviet premier clung to the same points he made before the conference with President Kennedy.

The Russian ruler professes, of course, to be pleased with the idea of "summit" meetings. He says his meeting with Mr. Kennedy "was a good opportunity for the first personal contact and exchange of views on basic problems between myself as chairman of the council of ministers of the Soviet Union and the new President of the United States."

WHAT THE SOVIET ruler no doubt really meant was that the occasion gave him a theatrical setting for the subsequent delivery of his diatribes against the United States.

It gave him a worldwide forum thereafter in which to repeat his false statements about the Western position on disarmament, nuclear testing and the Berlin issue.

Nikita Khrushchev, like Adolf Hitler, knows that the West wants peace now — at almost any price.

Western governments again give the impression that they are willing to make concessions through "negotiation" rather than take steps that could lead to war.

History shows that, in the end, the effort to avoid a showdown brings on war itself.

"Miscalculation" of the ultimate extent of Western resolve is still the danger that faces the world today.

Premier Khrushchev's speech has shown his defiance of, as well as his indifference to, the arguments of the President of the United States at Vienna. Acts, not words, will be decisive now in avoiding war.

Sheepishness

By TRUMAN TWILL

The next to the last stage in the yearly cycle of sheepishness at the Twillery was passed uneventfully last weekend — the shearing.

This is the thing most people ask about. They want to know how the wool is removed and whether this is something anyone can do — me, for instance.

If I had the equipment I could shear a couple sheep in a day, not guaranteeing the condition of the sheep. They would be nicked on all their edges and I would be confined to bed.

Sheep-shearing is a matter of knowing how to hold the sheep. Next most important is know how to handle the electric clippers, which are king-sized and as dangerous to be around as a sickle-bar mowing machine.

The idea is to start at the belly and take off the fleece as though the sheep were being helped out of an overcoat. The sheep do not appreciate this and will squirm loose the instant they think they have a chance to get away.

The first sheep this year made her move with a sudden lunge, knocking the sheep shearer flat and tying up his helper. The trick is to keep this from happening. The technique is never to let the animal's hind legs touch the ground.

It takes about 15 minutes at a practicable pace to do the job. It can be done faster, but not practically. A shearer's object is to get the sheep and their wool separated systematically, not to put on a showboat race with time for a few minutes, then spend the next half hour resting.

The fleeces are tied inside out with a special kind of paper twine soluble in the solution used to clean the wool. The fleeces are sold to wool brokers, who hold them or market them, according to the price. There is no money in wool for the farmers so to keep a sheep industry going on a stand-by basis the federal government pays a subsidy for each pound of wool raised if the farmer wants to claim it.

A freshly clipped sheep is as sad a sight as a wet cat. The animal's shape comes from its fleece. Robbed of this crowning glory, its head is too large, its legs too spindly and its trunk out of proportion with its legs. Its neck is too thin and its ears are too long.

They know they are grotesque. They act sheepish. But in a short time, if the temperature is mild, they like the sensation of being able to scratch themselves without that insulating pad of wool.

Because the sheep-shearer was late coming to our place this year, a large fraction of the wool had been rubbed off on posts and trees. But because summer was late coming, too, it was a lucky break for them they hung on to their fleeces so long.

The last stage of the cycle of sheepishness at the Twillery comes in the fall when it is determined who will stay for the winter and who will say goodbye forever. This always seems a long way from shearing time even when shearing time is late, but it never is.

First there's the Fourth of July. Then Labor Day. Then school starts. Then the furnace starts. Then it's time to say goodbye... and the next thing you know it's Spring. The cycle of sheepishness rolls along at a brisk clip.

That sheep which bowled over the shearer and his helper was a cute lamb a year ago last March and now she weighs more than 100 pounds.

We bought a fine new house today with forty years in which to pay. To meet the mortgage isn't hard—its almost like a credit card. No money down (or nearly so) And two-score years to get the dough; (We don't see how we can go wrong IF HOUSE AND OWNER LAST THAT LONG.)

Our home, sweet home, is "on the cuff"

Housing, School Measures Lambasted

Two JFK Bills Face Battles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavy squalls churned up today in the path of two major bills on President Kennedy's legislative program slated for preliminary or final House action this week.

Endangered by undercurrents of politics and religion are multi-billion-dollar housing and school bills.

A coalition of conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats was waiting to scuttle both of the Senate-passed measures if the opportunity arose.

The catch-all housing and urban development bill awaits the pleasure of the powerful House Rules Committee. It is scheduled for House debate starting Wednesday if the Rules Committee gives the go-ahead. Chairman Howard

W. Smith, D-Va., indicated this would be forthcoming without undue delay.

The bill carries a price tag ranging from around $5 billion to more than $10 billion, depending on who makes the estimates. It includes a controversial provision for 40-year, no down payment loans for housing for families with moderate incomes, plus construction of 100,000 units of family housing. It is similar, except for the down payments provision, to the Senate-passed bill. Conservatives have lambasted the housing measure as too costly and impractical.

It was their opposition which helped the Rules Committee choke an omnibus housing bill last year.

In deeper trouble is a $2.5-billion bill for aid to public schools. It also was killed off last year by the Rules Committee.

Since then, however, the rules group has been enlarged to give liberal Democrats a voting edge they lacked in former years.

Smith has balked at calling a committee meeting on the school bill until other school measures, providing long-term loans for private and parochial schools for non-sectarian purposes and loans for college students are cleared by the House Education Committee.

"We should take a look at all these proposals together," he told a reporter. "I don't propose to call a hearing on one bill only when other measures dealing with the same subject are pending." insistence of some members that the House act first on the private school loan bill.

In this group is Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, a Roman Catholic. Some Catholic members fear that if a public school aid bill—as advocated by President Kennedy—is passed first, the House will shelve the private school measure.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., wants action first on the bill to provide financial aid for public schools only.

It's a question of what comes first.

Dearborn, Mich., will be the future home of Richard B. Fox and his bride, the former Miss Karen Ann Zeigler, who were married Saturday afternoon in St. Paul Catholic Church.

Rev. J. Richard Gaffney officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar setting of palms, ferns, ivy and vases of snapdragons and delphinium.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O. Zeigler Sr. of Lisbon Road. Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Fox of Grand Rapids, Mich., are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding, Miss Zeigler chose a gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and silk organza. Seed pearls outlined the scoop neckline of the fitted bodice, which was styled with shirred sleeves. Lace appliques highlighted the skirt, which featured a back panel of lace, ending in a chapel train.

A silk organza rose held her three-tiered fingertip veil. An orchid, stephanotis, lilies of the valley and carnations formed her bridal bouquet. She was given in marriage by her father.

group is suing the telephone company for $4.7 million.

The communications towers were key links in nationwide communications. They handled telephone and telegraph circuits for public use and circuits used in U.S. defense operations.

Located in the desert, the stations are automatic and normally unmanned. They are part of AT&T's system of relaying signals by line of sight. The blasts caused only minor disruption of military circuits because equipment automatically switched messages to another system.

FBI agents in Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday filed a complaint charging Brouss, Jensen and other unknown persons with conspiracy between May 1 and May 28 to commit sabotage by blowing up and destroying the microwave station at Wendover, Nev.

The others blown up were at Knolls, Utah, and Cedar Mountain, Utah.

Ensenada police said they went aboard the 42-foot ketch, the Monsoon, at 6 p.m. Saturday on a tip that heavily armed persons were living aboard.

Detective Emilio Mendez said Brouss stood on deck with an M2 rifle in his hand, a pistol in his belt and two hand grenades on a table beside him. The four policemen disarmed him.

They arrested Brouss and his wife, then the other two men when they appeared 2½ hours later, Jensen carrying a bag with two hand grenades in it.

Mendez said the yacht's arsenal included two 50-caliber machine guns, three carbines, three rifles, a shotgun and 1,500 rounds of 22-millimeter and 30-caliber ammunition.

Also, he said, there were a "bundle" of TNT, "a great big bomb," and two two-way radios. At the Ensenada police station Mrs. Brouss' face was bloody. She told police she had fallen down a flight of stairs.

Alfredo Trujillo Mier, consultant to the Mexican federal district attorney, said Brouss told him it cost $600 to blow up the stations and that he had spent $6,000 on the arsenal.

Brouss told Mier he had sent 19,000 letters from various Mexican towns to U.S. people, including President Kennedy, Eleanor Roosevelt and newspaper editors and publishers, urging sympathy for the "American Republican Army."

In San Diego Brouss and Jensen were taken before Betty Marshall Graydon, U.S. commissioner. Brouss, who has long, wavy hair, a graying beard and a droopy mustache, wore a blue denim yachting suit with two stars on his cap.

Senate Highways and Public Works Committee tonight.

Sen. Charles Whalen Jr., R-Montgomery, said members want to question Wallace about using highway employees to gather data on filing political campaign expense statements used by DiSalle in a special message to the legislature.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston originally was to appear before the committee, but Whalen said Preston is out of town and unavailable.

Whalen added that Preston said in a letter that Wallace had coordinated the program of gathering data by volunteers on their own time. But the senator asserted his own investigation turned up some differences in the report on volunteer help.

Senators were to get their 25th work week under way today with a vote in eight house-approved measures, including one to gear Ohio's billboard ban for interstate highways with federal regulations to qualify for a $10 million bonus in federal road funds.

Representatives included on their calendar of 11 Senate-approved bills a proposal to establish an Ohio educational television network.

Talks

in five neutrals — Ghana, India, Indonesia, Mexico and the United Arab Republic. The United States wants to admit only two—India and Mexico.

The Soviet aide memoir Khrushchev gave Kennedy at their Vienna meeting June 3-4 called disarmament the "main, cardinal issue" to be solved.

The United States takes the position that while, with a little good will, it would be easy to agree speedily on the nuclear test ban issue, the much more intricate question of disarmament has no chance for a quick solution.

The U.S. note of Saturday, while prepared by the State Department, was, in effect, Kennedy's reply to the Soviet Vienna note.

The United States blamed the Soviet Union for the Geneva deadlock and said it could not continue indefinitely its self-imposed ban on nuclear weapons tests.

Decade's Cost History of Farm Foods

Trends in food costs that you, the consumer, pay for a market basket of farm foods are charted, below, for the past 10 years. Basic unit for comparison is the market basket of farm food based on average of 1952 purchase of urban families.

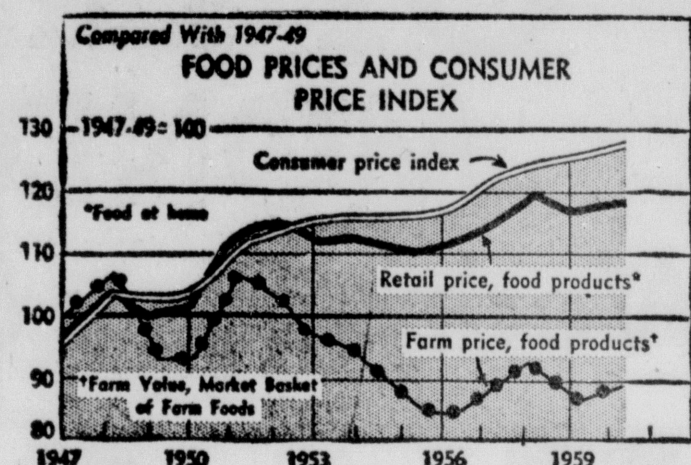

MARKET BASKET COST — Newschart shows relationship of retail cost, marketing charges and farm value for market basket of farm foods, based on average of 1952 purchases of urban families. Dollars represent annual rate. Marketing charges cover all costs of foods from farm to you.

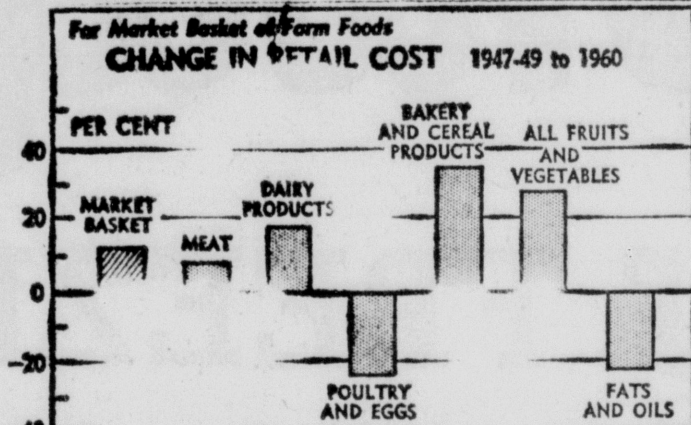

SIX DOWN, ONE UP — Prices received by farmers declined during much of the last decade. Result: reduction of 12 per cent in farm value of a family market basket of farm foods. Marketing charge increases upped price to consumers. Farmer got more on fruits and vegetables only.

Consumer Price Index chart, top right, takes 1947-1949 as its base for over-all cost comparison. Data for Newscharts are from Agriculture Department's agricultural marketing service booklet, "Food Costs."

FOODS UP LESS — Retail prices of foods for home preparation in 1960 were about a sixth higher than their average in 1947-49. Consumer Price Index—average of prices paid by consumers for all goods and services—was up more than one-fourth over 1947-49 base period for the index.

FIVE UP, TWO DOWN — Though farm values declined for product groups in the consumer's market basket (except fruits and vegetables) for a decade, marketing charges brought retail costs higher for all but poultry and eggs, fats and oils. Base: 1952 purchase of urban families.

Thomas Works Employees To Vote On Firm's Request

LISBON — A vote is scheduled Wednesday at 4 p.m. by Local 797, United Brick and Clay Workers, of the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. on a company proposal to keep the plant in operation.

The 174 employees, who manufacture porcelain insulators for the electric industry, have been asked to forego for three months a seven-cent-per-hour increase due July 1.

The company also had asked the workers to take an average $1.25-per-month cut but later withdrew that request.

Plant manager James Zbojvosky said the plant has operated at a loss for four years, but has shown some improvement the past two years.

It is believed that the union will vote to accept the management's offer. The union's international representative and business agent will attend the voting.

Plant officials have indicated the plant will cease operation here unless its request is met.

Laos

half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the chief of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

The princes set a three-day limit on their session and said they would only work out general principles and policies, leaving the details to the East-West conference in Geneva and their own lesser-rank delegations meeting in Laos in the rebel-jungle town of Ban Namone.

That procedure indicated that formation of a coalition regime is a long way off.

"We all agree that Laos should be neutral, sovereign and independent," Souvanna Phouma said.

Formation of a national union regime made up of all the Southeast Asian kingdom's warring factions would enable the country to send a single delegation to the Geneva conference, which is bogged down by Communist refusal to expand the powers of the International Control Commission in Laos so that it can check on continuing Pathet Lao attacks in violation of the cease-fire.

A coalition government presumably would result in a quick end to military activity, and the Geneva conference then could get on with its main task—creation of procedures to keep Laos peaceful, independent and neutral. Until the princes end their meeting and report to the Geneva meeting, that conference is expected to mark time.

Bender

tagged: "Here's yours! Let's the job."

And millions who watched television will not soon forget the hoarse-voiced Bender, clanging cowbell and leading the singing at the 1952 convention for Taft.

Bender went downhill politically after 1958 when he accepted the chairmanship of a three-man commission appointed by James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamster Union, to "clean house" in the 1.5 million-member labor force.

He was paid $250 for every day he worked and it was estimated he received $60,000 in fees and expenses. Bender said he turned most of the money over to charity. He was denounced by the Senate Rackets Subcommittee for a Hoffa whitewash, a charge Bender denied.

Later the GOP organization in his home county shunned him. But Bender tried to fight back and ran for a spot on the 1960 Ohio GOP convention delegation. He lost. He also suffered a humiliating defeat to a housewife in his bid to be elected a precinct committeeman in Chagrin Falls.

Bender is survived by his wife of 41 years, the former Edna Eckhardt, who now is ill in a Cleveland Hospital, and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest B. Stevenson of Chagrin Falls and Mrs. Dorsey Joe Bartlett of Washington. Funeral services will be Wednesday in the Stroud Funeral Home in Chagrin Falls.

parachuted with a rubber life raft to take the capsule in tow. They rolled it into the raft and then inflated the boat. They when climbed aboard and settled down to wait the arrival of the destroyer Radford, scheduled to reach them about 12 noon EST.

The recovery was the fifth success in the Discoverer series. Three earlier capsules were snagged by C119 Flying Boxcars utilizing trapeze-like hooks and a fourth was fished out of the Pacific by a Pacific Missile Range telemetry ship.

The capsule carried samples of metals to determine their ability and reaction in outer space. The specimens of gold, iron, bismuth, titanium, cadmium, magnesium, nickel and yttrium will be studied by Air Force scientists.

Also aboard the 2,100-pound satellite were three Geiger counters to monitor cosmic radiation. Iron and microphone density gauges were attached outside the capsule to measure "other space phenomena," the Air Force said.

men are being deprived of jobs by the practice of hiring foreign crews on the vessels.

Wage scales on such ships are lower than on American-flag vessels. The companies insist the practice is necessary in order to compete with foreign vessels.

Wage demands for American-flag ship crews are a relatively minor issue in the strike.

National Maritime Union President Joseph Curran said his union of 37,000 members was willing to negotiate with the companies directly if the companies would make a "positive response to our economic proposals."

Casey said no. His organization and the Tanker Labor Service Committee are representing the companies in the talks.

Altogether, 85,000 crewmen, seven unions and almost 1,000 passengers, freight and oil vessels are involved in the dispute. Many ships are at sea and won't be hit by the strike until they reach a United States port.

Indians Fail To Gain Top Spot With Twin-Bill Split

Blow Finale 8-5 After 2-1 Victory

Neiman's Hit Gives Perry Victory; Grant Meets Hot Chisox Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, on a treadmill in their last 14 games, tonight run up against the Chicago White Sox, one of the hottest teams in the American League, in the opener of a three-game series.

Chicago on Hot Streak

While the Indians have split 7-7 against Detroit, New York and Baltimore since June 8, the White Sox have grabbed 10 of 11 from Minnesota, Los Angeles and Baltimore.

Cleveland beat Baltimore 2-1 in

Cunningham to Cincy

It was made known at the North-South All-Star game in Cuyahoga Falls that East Liverpool's all-around basketball and football performer, Kenny Cunningham, is headed for the University of Cincinnati in the fall.

the opener of a doubleheader Sunday at home, but dropped the nightcap 8-5. Although the Tribe cut Detroit's lead to one-half game, it blew a chance to gain the top spot by the second game loss.

"It was a miserable game to lose," growled Manager Jimmie Dykes of the second game setback. The Indians got five runs in the first inning, but Gary Bell failed to hold the advantage as the Orioles poured across eight runs in the second frame.

The Indians chased starter Jack Fisher in the nightcap with their five-run burst, capped by a three-run double by Willie Kirkland. Wes Stock pitched to two men, walked one and got Johnny Temple to crack into an inning-ending double play.

Bel Gets Wild

Then the Orioles went to work on Bell, who was wild. He walked home two runs, was tagged for a three-run double by Jackie Brandt and a run-scoring single by Jim Gentile. Then Bobby Locke took over and was greeted by Marv Throneberry's two-run homer.

That wound up the scoring for the day. Locke blanked the Orioles on three hits for the final 7-13 innings. But his good pitching was to no avail.

Baltimore put Dick Hall on the mound at the start of the second frame. The right-hander stopped the Indians cold for eight innings on two hits. He fanned five and didn't walk a man.

Because of a scoring rules quirk, however, the victory was credited to Stock (2-0). Baltimore Manager Paul Richards felt Hall should have been credited with the triumph and said he planned to take the matter up with the official scorer.

Nieman Breaks Up Pitcher Duel

The first game was a tense pitcher's duel between Jim Perry (6-4) and Baltimore's Steve Barber (7-6) until pinch-hitter Bob Nieman dumped a two-out single into right field in the ninth inning to score the deciding run.

Both Perry and Barber hurled five-hitters. Barber yielded a run in the fourth when Tito Francona singled, took second on Vic Power walk, went to third on Chuck Essegian and scored on a sacrifice fly by John Romano.

The Orioles evened the count on Gus Triandos' homer in the seventh.

Cleveland opened the winning rally in the ninth—after being limited to three hits by Barber—when Essegian drew a walk. But Mike De La Hoz, filling in for slum-ridden Woodie Held at shortstop, rapped a single to center that sent Phillips to third. Then Nieman batted for Perry and knocked in the clincher with his single. It was Perry's first complete game since opening day.

Jim Grant (7-0) attempts to preserve his unblemished record tonight against the White Sox' Billy Pierce (3-5).

ONE LESS PREDATOR

Richard Gidley of the Damascus Road, whose flocks of ducks and geese have been dwindling under the attacks of foxes the past few months, has one less predator to worry about. Milan H. Miles of 207 Jennings Ave. shot a gray fox on the Gidley farm Sunday. Foxes destroyed about $100 worth of ducks and geese on the Gidley farm within an hour's period last Thursday morning.

World's High Jump Record Disputed in U.S., Moscow

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Valery Brumel went to bed in Moscow Sunday night convinced he held the world record in the high jump.

He woke up today not quite sure of just what record he held and where.

Valery, a handsome 19-year-old, cleared 2.23 meters at a meet in Moscow Sunday, according to Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

That, according to the record books was one centimeter better than John Thomas' recognized

The Salem Merchants copped their first win of the season as they split a doubleheader with Cuyahoga Falls, 7-9 and 5-1, in Penn-Ohio League softball games played at Kelley Park Sunday.

The Merchants are now 1-6 in loop play while Cuyahoga Falls is 2-3. On Saturday the Salem nine journeyed to Warren and were handed a 4-0 shutout.

Pacing the 5-1 Salem victory were Rich Youngpeter and Sam Pridon with homers. Jack Brudery and Don Brudery each smashed out triples for the locals. Youngpeter and Ferguson each connected for a double in the fray.

Ken Schoeni pitched a neat three-hitter for the locals to cap the win. Salem took a 2-0 lead in the fourth and added one in fifth and two in the sixth.

Cuyahoga Falls had to go three extra innings to grab its win. The encounter was tied at 7-7 but the visitors pushed two runs across in the 10th frame to win the tilt.

Six homers were belted in the game, two by Salem. Ferguson and Pridon connected for the local round trippers.

Salem tied the game up with six tallies in the sixth frame. Adams delivered a single, Pridon homered, two walks, and two errors provided for the tallies.

Bill Herman suffered the loss for Salem.

At Warren Mike Delaquilla pitched a one-hitter as he lead Warren to a 4-0 whitewash over the Merchants. Delaquilla helped his own cause by belting a homer. Pridon managed the only safety off the Warren hurler, a scratch single in the sixth. Herman also absorbed the loss for Salem.

Brumel, Thomas Believed Tied

lost no time in getting ready to submit it for recognition.

Now, it appears, it will be a record everywhere except in the United States, and here is why:

When Thomas, a tall Boston University junior, made his world record last year, it was measured as 7 feet, 3 3/4 inches. Actually, it was 2.228 meters. The rule states that the height must be shaved back to 2.22.

Brumel's height of 2.23 came to 7-3 1/2, but United States rule states that it must be cut back to the nearest quarter of an inch, which would be 7-3 1/4.

That makes them just even. Actually, it represents somewhat of a mathematical oddity because Thomas' 2.22 record does not measure up to 7-3 1/4. It comes only to 7-3 1/8, which under existing conversion rules, would cut it down further to 7-3 1/8.

"It's a problem," said Dan Ferris, AAU chief. "According to our conversion figures, Thomas should have a 2.23 figure, but our tables only go to two figures after the decimal."

This is one the figger filberts will have to solve.

Brumel and Thomas are warming up for their coming battle in Moscow during the United States-Soviet meet July 15-16. Thomas cleared 7-2 in the NCAA meet in Philadelphia last Saturday, but didn't come close when the bar was raised to 7-4.

Brumel whipped Thomas three times during the indoor season in Madison Square Garden last winter. Just before he arrived here, he cleared 7-4 1/2 in Leningrad, but it was indoors and couldn't be recognized.

Davidson Picks Davidson College

By BOB JULIAN

Where will the "Big D" go to college?

That has been the question milling in the minds of Salem and area sports fans as well as in the minds of many college coaches. The question was answered Sunday when Don Davidson announced that he has accepted a full academic grant-in-aid scholarship at Davidson College located in Davidson, N. C.

Davidson, a 6-5, 190-pound athlete, is one of the greatest all-around athletes ever to perform at Salem High School. The "Big D" was named by the Associated Press to its first team All-Ohio football and basketball teams this past season.

BESIDES EXCELLING on the gridiron and the hardwoods, Davidson also starred on the Quaker track squad, throwing the discus and competing in the high jump. He holds the school record in the discus with a heave of 148 ft., five in. He went to the state meet where he qualified to perform in the high jump this year.

Davidson is also a mainstay on the Salem American Legion baseball aggregation. The "Big D" is a first baseman as well as a pitcher for the Legion squad.

In his two years of varsity ball here, Salem football teams won 17 and lost two while the Quaker basketball teams have triumphed 34 times and lost eight times. Davidson held down an end position in football and played center and forward in basketball.

Davidson led Coach John Cabas' cagers in rebounds the past two years. While a junior he flipped points in at a clip of 12.1 per game but in his senior year the "Big D" averaged 18.5 points per game. Davidson led the Quakers in just about every department this past year, including scoring with 389 points.

Because of his ability to jump and handle the ball, Davidson is one of the best basketball players in the state. His ability to spring into space enabled him to be one of the top rebounders in the state. He has an excellent one-handed jump shot from outside and along with tip-ins and drive-ins he was able to score repeatedly.

DAVIDSON MOVES well for his

League-leading Mile Branch was handed its second loss in nine starts by Theron's IGA, 6-4; the Italian Club rolled over the Spartans, 21-2; Lincoln Machine dumped Sheely's Furniture & Appliance, 7-2, and Bliss edged Old Dutch, 10-9 in Class A softball tilts played Saturday at Kelley Park.

In a lone Class A battle played Sunday Lincoln Machine downed Theron's, 9-4 at Kelley Park.

Theron's JUMPED off to a 5-0 lead over Mile Branch in the first three frames before the losers knew what had happened. A triple by Morrison and doubles by Jack, Ehrhart and Carlisle provided the power to build up the lead over Mile Branch.

Mile Branch fought back in the fourth and fifth frames to trail only 5-4 going into the sixth but the deficit was too much to overcome.

N.C. School Gives Full Academic Grant-in-Aid Scholarship to 'Big D'

size and his huge hands and fast reflexes make him a very clever ball handler.

The "Big D" played in the North-South All-Star basketball game Saturday. Davidson started the game and collected four points for the North in a winning cause. Later in the year he will be a member of the North squad in the annual North-South All-Star football game to be played in Canton.

Asked as to why he picked Davidson College, Davidson said, "I chose Davidson College because of the pre-med school here and because of the high scholastic standard it has," also Davidson added, "I will have a chance to play big time basketball."

Davidson College is labeled by some as the "Princeton of the South." The school has 60 per cent of its graduates going on to graduate or professional schools each year. Five Davidson College graduates, since 1950, have been named Rhodes Scholars and eight received Woodrow Wilson

A tribute to Davidson College's scholastic standing was stated in a letter to Don from Dr. Lenex D. Baker, head of the Department of Surgery at the Duke University Medical Center, "It is almost a written law at this school that any boy from Davidson College who is recommended by the college and by Dr. Puckett of the Department of Biology at Davidson is automatically admitted here. I know no other school that has such a standing."

Davidson will study pre-med at Davidson College which has an enrollment of 1,000. The "Big D" finished 14th out of a graduating class of 230 and maintained better than a B average in school.

He was a good leader, serving as president of the senior class, co-captain in football and captain in basketball.

HEAD COACH OF Davidson College, Charles (Lefty) Driesell found out about Davidson by writing to Cabas. "I wrote to Cabas after I heard that he was one of the most outstanding coaches in Ohio. I asked him if he had any good boys he could tell me about."

Davidson College was the first school to contact Davidson. Since the Davidson College letter the "Big D" was contacted by 75 to 80 different schools from 40 of the 50 states. Davidson College was also the first school the Davidson family went to visit.

Davidson's father, William Davidson said, "As far as we are concerned there are many institutions and you can get an education at all of them, however, we think Don can get a better education at Davidson College because of the high scholastic standing it has."

Don will be playing only basketball at Davidson College and might try out for the baseball team, he said.

Cabas said, "I am very happy that Don has made his selection on an academic as well as an athletic basis and that basketball will be a means to an end in helping him to obtain the education he wants and Davidson College can offer to him."

Driesell has lined up some very outstanding freshmen prospects. Besides Davidson, others coming to Davidson College will be Dave Thomas, all-state from Pa.; Fred Hetzell, A.P. All American from Washington, D.C., who will be Davidson's roommate; Charlie Marcon, another all-state performer from Pa., and Paul Briggs, all-state from N. C.

DRIESSELL, WHO will be in his second year of coaching at Davidson College, said that the freshmen will play an 18-game schedule, that includes all Southern Conference schools. Davidson College is a member of the Southern Conference. Some of these schools include, Wake Forest, Duke, So. Carolina, Furman, No. Carolina, Clemson and No. Carolina State.

Last year Driesell's Davidson College aggregation recorded a 9-14 won-loss mark.

On landing Davidson, Driesell said, "We are real happy to have Don because he is the type of young man it is a pleasure to be associated with. He will not only be a fine addition to our basketball team but also to our student body as an outstanding leader and student." Driesell also added, "Don was the best forward we saw all year. He is going to make a real fine basketball player."

Reds Increase Lead in NL; Tigers Lose, Still in First

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati widened its National League lead to 1 1/2 games Sunday by taking two more from Philadelphia, 7-2 and 10-0, making it 12 straight over the Phillies this season.

San Francisco took over second place by thumping Chicago 7-2, and Los Angeles dropped two full games behind the Reds after losing to Milwaukee 10-2 as the Braves hit five home runs.

Pittsburgh's defending world champs are 5 1/2 back after splitting a pair with St. Louis. Bob Friend won the first 5-3 but Larry Jackson got an even break for the Cardinals by taking the second game 7-3.

Detroit Holds 1st Place

In the American League, Detroit held first place, despite a 9-0 shutout by New York's Whitey Ford who struck out 12 Tigers. Cleveland missed a chance to take over the lead when, after beating Baltimore 2-1, they lost the second game 8-5 and remained a half-game back. Los Angeles downed Kansas City 5-3 in 11 innings. Chicago defeated Minnesota twice 4-3 and 10-7, making it 10 victories in their last 11 games. Boston won its first doubleheader of the season, downing Washington 13-12 and 6-5 in 13 innings.

A former Phil, Gene Freese, led the big Cincinnati attack with seven hits in eight trips and Vada Pinson, rolling along at a .500 clip in the last five games, chipped in with two hits in each game. Wally Post, another former Phil, slammed two homers as Cincinnati slugged Phil pitching for a total of 26 hits in the two games.

Howie Nunn's fine rescue pitching, no runs in 7 2/3 innings in relief of Jim Maloney, earned him his second victory. Jim O'Toole pitched a unique 10-hit shutout in the second game. Don Ferrarese and Chris Short were the losers.

Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda each hit three-run homers for San Francisco, giving Juan Marichal the victory over Don Cardwell. Dick LeMay, a rookie southpaw from the Texas League, gave up only two hits in four shutout relief innings for the Giants.

Milwaukee hit five home runs in a romp over the Dodgers. Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas tagged loser Don Drysdale for successive homers in the third. Later Adcock hit another and Roy McMillan also homered. It was the Braves' eighth victory over Los Angeles in 12 meetings. Drysdale went into the game with a string of 14 scoreless innings but it didn't last long. Don McMahon who relieved Carl Willey in the fifth was the winner.

Groat's Fly Wins Game

Dick Groat's sacrifice fly, following one of three errors by Card shortstop Julio Gotay won the first game for Pittsburgh despite Stan Musial's seventh homer. Jackson survived a shaky seventh inning and finally was replaced by Bob Miller in the ninth inning while winning his third, a 10-hitter. The losers were Curt Simmons in the first and Joe Gibbon in the second.

Aldom's Diner Splits

Twin-Bill, 4-0, 0-2

Aldom's Diner split a twin-bill with the Cadiz American Legion Post 34, 4-0 and 0-2 in National 10th District American Legion League encounters played at Centennial Park Sunday.

The Salem aggregation captured its second win in five starts behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Owens who hurled a 4-0 shutout. Owens issued only one walk and struck out six batters. Roger DeCrown lashed out a triple to account for one of the four Salem hits. The other three were singles. Aldom's scored in the first and in sixth innings for all its runs.

Cadiz took the second half of the two games 2-0 as each team collected two hits apiece. Salem played the game under protest from the sixth frame.

Salem hurler Don Davidson pitched two-hit ball before he was lifted at the start of the sixth frame after Cadiz scored its two runs on an error and a triple in the fifth. Joe Zamarelli pitched the remaining two frames for Aldom's and did not give up a hit.

Tom Owens collected two singles for the Salem safes. Cadiz's pitcher G. Kihovick went the full seven frames and fanned 11 Aldom's batters.

On Saturday Aldom's traveled to Cadiz but were handed a 7-5 setback by the down state nine.

Jeff Chandler Dead of Blood Infection

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jeff Chandler had been gravely ill for weeks but Hollywood still found it difficult to believe today that the rugged movie hero was dead at the age of 42.

"We all thought he was getting better," said a close friend. "Just a few days ago he was griping. That's always a sure sign of recovery."

"I just can't believe it," said another friend, actor Tony Curtis.

Chandler died Saturday of a generalized blood infection complicated by pneumonia. The complications developed after relatively minor surgery was performed May 13 to correct a slipped spinal disc.

Chandler suffered internal hemorrhages and infections following the surgery. He was given 55 pints of blood by transfusion during one emergency operation for a ruptured artery which lasted 7½ hours.

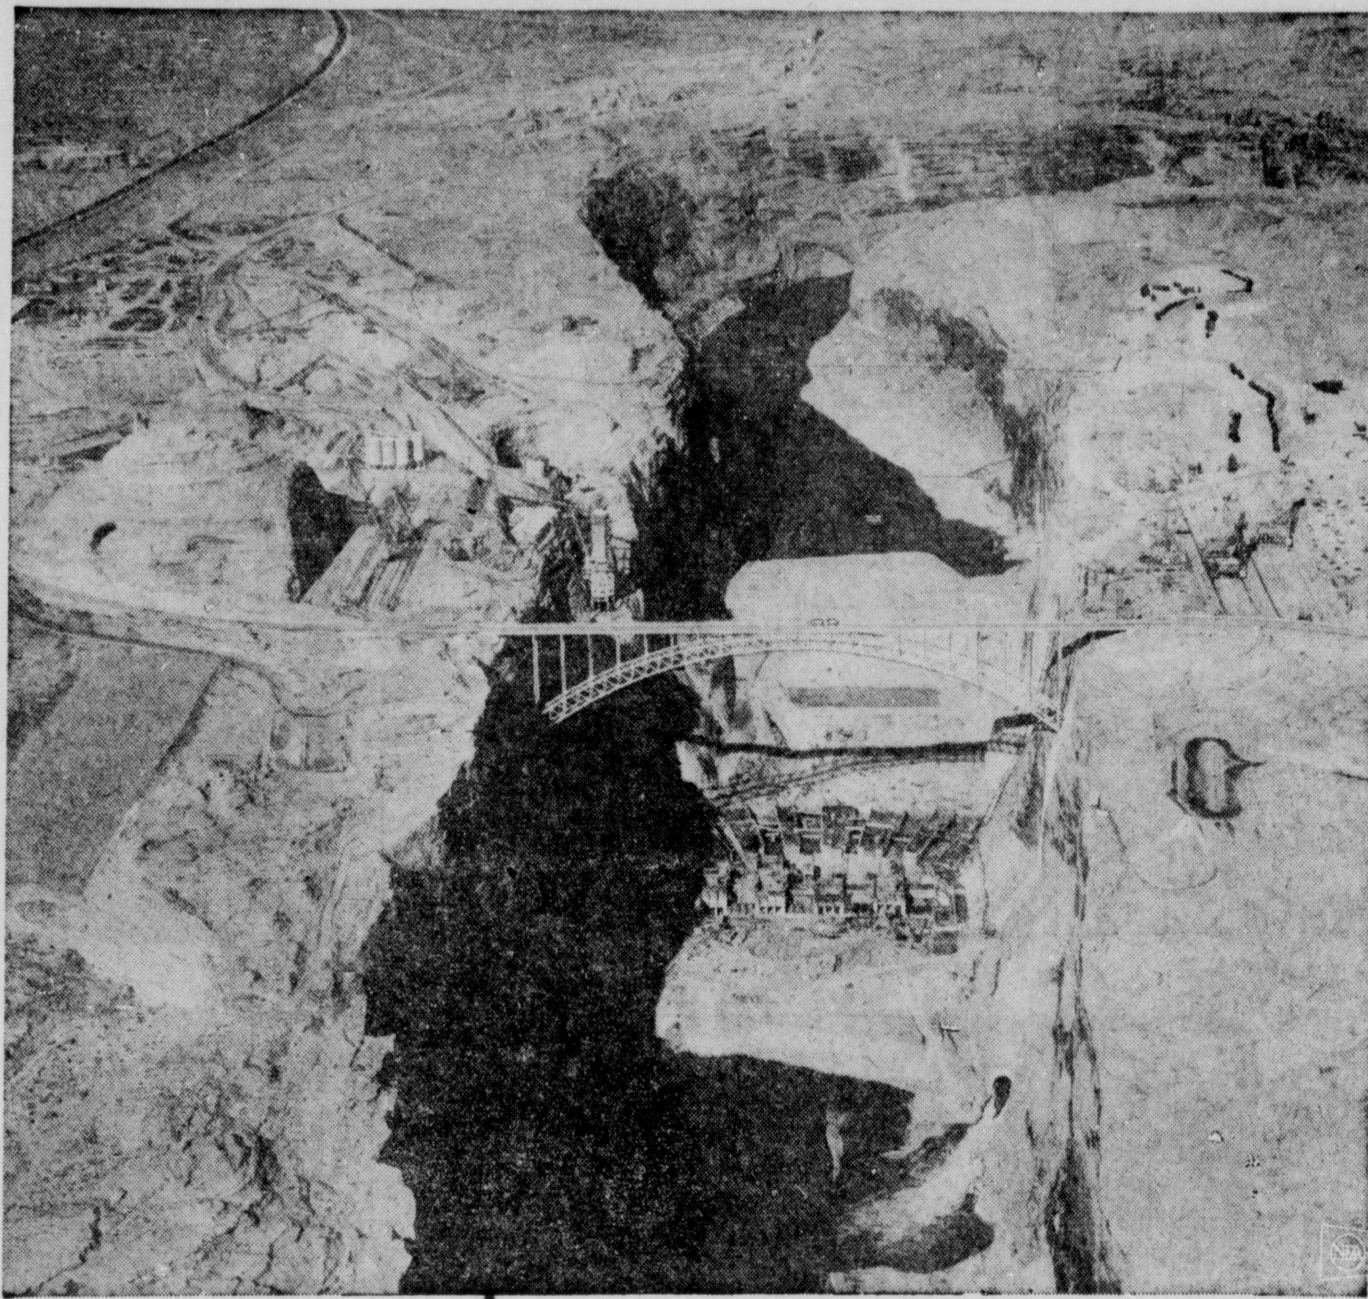

"But he got through that okay," said a friend. "All of us thought that anyone who could get through that operation could lick anything."

But another hemorrhage and an infection further weakened him and his condition took a final turn for the worse Friday.

Funeral services for the 6-foot-4 actor were to be held today at Temple Isaiah, with private burial at Hillside Memorial Park.

Chandler injured his back early this spring while making "The

Salem City Hospital Candid Observations
(Twentieth Article of a Series on Hospital Information)

LOW OVERHEAD

Most people in business today are very much concerned about "overhead expense." Prices have to be cut in almost every line and a good place to start is on overhead expense. It is interesting to note that even manufacturing corporations are concerned about overhead: one reason is - with increasing automation they now have as many white-collar workers as they do blue-collar workers which could indicate excessive overhead.

What about overhead expense in a hospital? This refers to any expense not directly involved in care of the patient.

In approaching this cost problem we found that overhead is a creeping, insidious thing - like fighting weeds in a garden. Key personnel must be constantly on the alert and hacking away at unnecessary advancement in overhead.

In our modern era there is a tendency to become more complex. But our aim here has been "to simplify" every facet of our operation to the greatest extent possible.

The ten departments in this hospital are operated by ten department heads who report to the administrator. Each is expected to be capable and productive and each is responsible for departmental direct costs - wages and supplies. This "hardcore gang" is our management team.

We do not use additional management personnel such as: assistant administrator, personnel director, public relations director and assistant director of nursing. This savings in overhead is in excess of $20,000 per year.

We classify committee meetings, institutes and conventions as nonproductive activity and limit these to a minimum. Of course there are times and reasons when such are beneficial. We do provide books and trade magazines to personnel to keep them up to date and on the job at the same time. Our aim is "productive work" not "conversation" as is the result of too much committeeism.

We have reduced "red tape" or "alibi paper" to an absolute minimum in handling supplies and payroll. The payroll is also done on IBM by local manufacturing company. It now takes three hours instead of three days when done by hand. Our accounting was revamped and as a result the controller can produce a monthly financial report in one hour, whereas it formerly required a day of his time.

A work sampling study done here in nursing revealed that R.N.s spend more time on paperwork than in nursing. Obviously, this situation should be corrected if possible for the benefit of the nursing staff as well as the patients and this we hope to do in the future.

Some years ago we discontinued the old hospital custom of providing free meals, laundry and housing to employees. At today's prices this would be a most expensive item of overhead.

By simplification of the hospital operation our results so far have been: no harassing red tape, all personnel understand procedures and overhead expense is held to a minimum.
